HERE'S the POINT!

By SPENCE HELD

Seven thousand bug-eyed men and women showed up for "the fourth annual interplanetary space craft convention" at Twenty-nine Palms last weekend.

Most of them were from L.A., no doubt . . . A S.D. newspaper reported they were "hoping and expecting that creatures from outer space would honor the meeting with their presence."

Little green men with pointed heads, huh? Mild-mannered Martians equipped with electronic brains and flit guns that shoot purple jets of nuclear ink—instantly writing off a victim like a cancelled Czech and copyright in all languages including the Scandihoovian.

But the space men didn't appear and not a flying saucer was sighted.

* * *

However, a fella from New Joisy spoke. With his big bare face hanging out, he said that space men traveling in flying saucers visited him in 1931 and have been back many times since then. They like ham and eggs, he said.

He would be from New Joisy. Remember that radio broadcast of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" some years ago? The alarmed farmers rushed out with pitchforks and shotguns to repel the invading Martians.

How about staging that invasion on TV for the L. A. yokels?

I shudder to think what would happen, Joe.

* * *

Hugh Greer, who has been a builder in Ocean Beach since 1937, now commutes once a week from his mountain home in Idyllwild.

He is president of the Idyllwild Chamber of Commerce, third largest in Riverside County with 536 members . . . Idyllwild's winter population of 900 soars to 15,000-30,000 in the summer, according to Mrs. Greer, and it "has all the problems of a growing community."

* * *

The Rev. Bud Held of Point Loma won the javelin throw at the Fresno Relays last weekend. He tossed the spear 255 feet 3 inches . . . Sign on car: "Made in Africa by Ants." (Is this a takeoff on "Made in Texas by Texans"? . . . A thought for today: "He who will not reason, is a bigot; he who cannot is a fool; and he who dares not, is a slave."

A thought for tonight: Relax and forget it.

St. Peter's By The Sea Lutheran Church Plans Building Expansion

"The growth of St. Peter's by the Sea is a straight-line graph going skyward," said Dr. John Mehnert, Special Gifts chairman, in an address to members of the congregation of St. Peter's by the Sea Evangelical Lutheran Church.

He spoke at the Loyalty Dinner Monday evening in the San Diego Club, marking the beginning of a two-week Building Expansion Fund Canvass.

The goal is $85,000, to be pledged over a 100-day period. Wendell Stewart, Canvass Committee chairman and master of ceremonies at the Loyalty Dinner, announced that 20 percent of the goal has been raised in advance by the 24 men of the church who will do the canvassing.

George Nowak, team captain, explained plans for construction of a two-story Sunday School building, the acquisition of more land for further expansion, and reduction of the current debt.

Other speakers included Ned Titlow, teams chairman; Henry Saleebey, Initial Gifts chairman, and John Hauser, team captain.

The Rev. Vlad P. Benko is pastor of St. Peter's by the Sea.

'Epilepsy' Topic

"'Epilepsy' will be the topic of a health lecture this Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 1711 Sunset Cliffs Blvd.," said Evangelist R. E. Delafield, who is combining medical lectures with his gospel services.

Delafield, pastor of the Ocean Beach Seventh-day Adventist church, said that "Dr. Guy M. Hunt, Assistant Professor Anatomy, College of Medical Evangelists, Loma Linda, Calif., will be the sixth instructor from this College to speak at the Temple over radio station KGB (1360 kc) in recent weeks.

"A unique religious service follows as the sermon assumes the form of a case in a jury trial with the evangelist prosecuting the case.

"The public is invited to this unusual service," concluded Delafield, "which promises to bring the largest audience to date in this crusade for Christ."

SPORTS DIVING: More than ever underwater enthusiasts are exploring the oceans, lakes, rivers and quarries of America. Some are spearfishing, others taking underwater pictures, performing research and salvage projects, sightseeing, even searching for sunken treasur eand all having a lot of fun. That's why skin diving is America's fastest growing sport. This new era of underwater exploration and adventure began 13 years ago with the invention of the Aqua-Lung, a light mobile apparatus for breathing underwater. Today, thanks to this self contained unit, any experienced and healthy swimmer can dive below 100 feet, unhampered by cumbersome apparatus.

Banker, Educators Get Citations

A bank president and two area school officials were presented "Minute Man" citations by the U. S. Treasury Department last week at the eighth annual Educator Banker Banquet in the El Cortez Hotel.

Anderson Borthwick, president of The First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego, received a citation in behalf of the Clearing House Association of which he is president, for the work of that organization in promotion of U. S. Savings Bond sales.

Quincy A. Wemple, thrift and conservation coordinator for the city schols, and Maurice Ross, savings chairman for the county schools since 1941, received similar awards for their service in the schools savings bond program.

Stuart J. Moulin of Los Angeles, state director of the Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division, presented the awards at the banquet which was attended by 300 bank and school officials and their guests.

Moulin said that the San Diego City Schools have the best record of savings stamps and bond sales in Southern California and that bond sales in San Diego County schools are higher than in any other county in California.

LIFE STORY—Donald O'Connor and Ann Blyth share hilarity, heartbreak, and a poignant love story in "The Buster Keaton Story" now playing at the Frontier Drive-In Theatre. Keaton was hired as technical advisor in the re-creation of the classic routines that 30 years ago made his deadpan slapstick world famous.

Old Globe Offers Courtroom Drama

"Witness For The Prosecution," Agatha Christie's famous courtroom suspense play that ran more than two years in London and 81 weeks in New York, opened a four-week run Tuesday at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

Produced by the San Diego Community Theatre and directed by Craig Noel, the tension-filled drama will be presented nightly, except Mondays, at 8:30 through June 9.

The involved and tense plot of "Witness For the Prosecution" tells about a shiftless young man who is accused of murdering an elderly woman who had willed her fortune to him. The drama that fills the courtroom during the trial is so engrossing and so delicately woven that audiences are requested not to divulge the story to others lest they spoil the effect of the play.

Director Noel has assembled a talented and popular cast for the Globe production of "Witness For The Production." Included in it are four former Atlas Award Winners, Lily Mae Barr, Victor Buono Eleanor Rose and Al Holle Others are Burt Miller, Bill Roesch, Bill Thornton, Hilda Lapidus, George Rider, Jim Mains, Ernie Carlson, Jon Beaume, Dick Martin, Glenn Sundvold, Ken Frederick, Robert Mains and Audrey Renstead.

Peggy Kellner, Globe Theatre art director, has created a replica of England's famous Old Bailey Court as a setting for the presentation of "Witness For The Prosecution."
